

128 Though All the Beasts That Live and Feed

(Meribah. 8. 8. 6. D.)

T. Kelly

L. Mason

1. Though all the beasts that live and feed Up - on a thou-sand hills should bleed -
2. "A bet - ter sac - ri - fice" than these It needs, the conscience to ap - pease
3. His who could say, Him-self the Son, "My Fa - ther and My - self are one,"

Tho' all their blood should flow, The sac - ri - fice would be in vain,
Or sat - is - fy the Lord: No blood hath vir - tue to a - tone
Who made the world a - round; His who Je - ho - vah's Fel-low stood,

The stain of sin would still re - main: Sin is not can - celled so.
For man's offence, but His a - lone Whose ti - tle is "The Word."
And claimed e - qual - i - ty with God, Whose glo - ry knows no bounds.

4 Jesus the Christ, on earth His name,
He came — in love to sinners came —
And bowed His head and died;
A full atonement now is made,
The ransom, by His death, is paid,
And Justice satisfied.

5 That sinners might draw near to Him,
God planned this great, this gracious scheme,
And found the ransom too:
Let all His saints their voices raise,
And sing the great Redeemer's praise
While endless ages flow.